RE-REQUEST FOR ADVICE/ GUIDANCE ON "STRATEGIC INSTALLATIONS"

Your e-mail to Colonel Brooks on 09- April-2014 seeking information refers.

Firstly let me clarify the term "Strategic Installations". This term forms part of the 2007 NKP and Strategic Installations Bill which is under review by the South African Police Secretariate. The Institutions under this category are National and Provincial Government Departments. They are not declared as such and there is no Act that prescribes this.

The Strategic Installations (Government Departments) are regulated in terms of the Minimum Physical Security Standards document (MPSS) accepted by all Government Departments as the minimum standard for physical security.

The Government Security Regulator in the Division: Protection and Security Services is responsible to regulate and ensure that the minimum standard for physical security is complied with. The responsibility for the compliance monitoring is in the South African Police Service.

I hope I have clarified your questions.

Kind Regards.
