Dear SAPS officer

YES. I CAN PHOTOGRAPH YOU.

Section 16 of the Constitution protects media freedom. And so do your own rules.

According to SAPS Standing Order 156:

- All police members "must treat all media representatives with courtesy, dignity and respect, even when provoked."
- You may not stop me from taking photo or video, whether of people, buildings, or you.
- You may not seize or damage my equipment or force me to delete photos.
 See r2k.org.za/filmthepolice

Interfering with me is against the law and your orders. I will take action against you.

Dear SAPS officer

YES. I CAN PHOTOGRAPH YOU.

Section 16 of the Constitution protects media freedom. And so do your own rules.

According to SAPS Standing Order 156:

- All police members "must treat all media representatives with courtesy, dignity and respect, even when provoked."
- You may not stop me from taking photo or video, whether of people, buildings, or you.
- You may not seize or damage my equipment or force me to delete photos. See r2k.org.za/filmthepolice

Interfering with me is against the law and your orders. I will take action against you.

Dear SAPS officer

YES. I CAN PHOTOGRAPH YOU.

Section 16 of the Constitution protects media freedom. And so do your own rules.

According to SAPS Standing Order 156:

- All police members "must treat all media representatives with courtesy, dignity and respect, even when provoked."
- You may not stop me from taking photo or video, whether of people, buildings, or you.
- You may not seize or damage my equipment or force me to delete photos.
 See r2k.org.za/filmthepolice

Interfering with me is against the law and your orders. I will take action against you.

Dear SAPS officer

YES. I CAN PHOTOGRAPH YOU.

Section 16 of the Constitution protects media freedom. And so do your own rules.

According to SAPS Standing Order 156:

- All police members "must treat all media representatives with courtesy, dignity and respect, even when provoked."
- You may not stop me from taking photo or video, whether of people, buildings, or you.
- You may not seize or damage my equipment or force me to delete photos. See r2k.org.za/filmthepolice

Interfering with me is against the law and your orders. I will take action against you.

Dear SAPS officer

YES. I CAN PHOTOGRAPH YOU.

Section 16 of the Constitution protects media freedom. And so do your own rules.

According to SAPS Standing Order 156:

- All police members "must treat all media representatives with courtesy, dignity and respect, even when provoked."
- You may not stop me from taking photo or video, whether of people, buildings, or you.
- You may not seize or damage my equipment or force me to delete photos. See r2k.org.za/filmthepolice

Interfering with me is against the law and your orders. I will take action against you.

Dear SAPS officer

YES. I CAN PHOTOGRAPH YOU.

Section 16 of the Constitution protects media freedom. And so do your own rules.

According to SAPS Standing Order 156:

- All police members "must treat all media representatives with courtesy, dignity and respect, even when provoked."
- You may not stop me from taking photo or video, whether of people, buildings, or you.
- You may not seize or damage my equipment or force me to delete photos. See r2k.org.za/filmthepolice

Interfering with me is against the law and your orders. I will take action against you.

Dear SAPS officer

YES. I CAN PHOTOGRAPH YOU.

Section 16 of the Constitution protects media freedom. And so do your own rules.

According to SAPS Standing Order 156:

- All police members "must treat all media representatives with courtesy, dignity and respect, even when provoked."
- You may not stop me from taking photo or video, whether of people, buildings, or you.
- You may not seize or damage my equipment or force me to delete photos. See r2k.org.za/filmthepolice

Interfering with me is against the law and your orders. I will take action against you.

Dear SAPS officer

YES. I CAN PHOTOGRAPH YOU.

Section 16 of the Constitution protects media freedom. And so do your own rules.

According to SAPS Standing Order 156:

- All police members "must treat all media representatives with courtesy, dignity and respect, even when provoked."
- You may not stop me from taking photo or video, whether of people, buildings, or you.
- You may not seize or damage my equipment or force me to delete photos.
 See r2k.org.za/filmthepolice

Interfering with me is against the law and your orders. I will take action against you.

Dear SAPS officer

YES. I CAN PHOTOGRAPH YOU.

Section 16 of the Constitution protects media freedom. And so do your own rules.

According to SAPS Standing Order 156:

- All police members "must treat all media representatives with courtesy, dignity and respect, even when provoked."
- You may not stop me from taking photo or video, whether of people, buildings, or you.
- You may not seize or damage my equipment or force me to delete photos.
 See r2k.org.za/filmthepolice

Interfering with me is against the law and your orders. I will take action against you.

